

Introducing a Four Language Educational Card Game for Kids and their Families!

The Value of Values® is a simple and enjoyable game that helps children and adults to evaluate and prioritize their personal and shared values in a safe and supportive environment. It allows players to develop an understanding of their personal and shared values which give significance to their actions and relationships and enables them to pursue their goals in a meaningful and purposeful way. This game is designed to initiate an open, deliberate, and safe dialogue about values through the means of a playful and enjoyable experience. The cards are a tool to create an environment in which the dialogue can take place. Game play directs players through a process of identifying and prioritizing their own values, examining the influence of these values in their lives, and designing an action plan to narrow the gap between core values and actual behavior. The Value of Values® was developed by Simon Dolan and Avishai Landau and is based upon the work of leading academics and researchers. It applies the research and findings of the best-selling book

THIS GAME IS RECOMMENDED FOR:

- Children aged 6 – 15
- Adults working with children - parents, grandparents and professionals
- Individual or group activities

PACKAGE INCLUDES:

- Set of cards suitable for 4 players
- Game Instructions

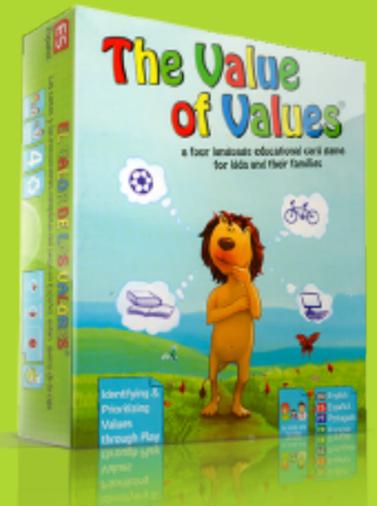

“The game helped us develop a family culture; what’s important to all of us. This is a great game.”

Parent-Mother

“The game made me change. I like the new me.”

10 years old

Game play directs players through a process of identifying and prioritizing their own values, examining the influence of these values in their lives, and designing an action plan to narrow the gap between core values and actual behavior. The Value of Values® was developed by Simon Dolan and Avishai Landau and is based upon the work of leading academics and researchers. It applies the research and findings of the best-selling book Management By Values written by Prof. Simon Dolan and collaborators.

CONTACTS:

Press Contact, European and South American Distribution
Dr. Simon L. Dolan: Tel: +34 657 244 283
simon.dolan@learning-about-values.com

Spain Distribution
David Alonso GarciaTel: +34 670 201 296
david@despertat.com